The 44 Beachfront Deluxe Rooms draw inspiration from old colonial mansions, providing a perfect combination of bygone charms and innovative design. Featuring thatched roofs and private gardens or terraces, in-room entertainment will include satellite television.

In Full Moon's new design, 55 Beachfront Cottages allow guests to experience the plush comfort and enjoy exotic splendor of these thatched cottages. Each of these opulent individual sanctuaries is sea facing and surrounded by tropical gardens. Vaulted ceiling, private terrace and traditional thatched roof will evoke luxury and style. Bathrooms will open out on to a delightful al fresco garden shower.

The 52 Water Bungalows are built over the lagoon with a private terrace and direct access to the sea. The four-poster bed complements the room's comfort and gives a romantic setting. A wide range of in-room facilities ensure the luxurious experience, including TV / HIFI system.

One of the most important developments is the addition of the new Full Moon Spa which, to emphasize its role as a retreat, is built on its own tiny island, linked to Full Moon by a suspension bridge. Founded on the Thai-inspired approach that true wellness stems from within, the philosophy of Full Moon Spa is "vitality via movement and water".

A range of treatments has been specially devised using indigenous plants and featuring the international Ytsara skin care range. These will include: Bathing Rituals, Ayurvedic Treatments, and a comprehensive selection of Facials and Massages. The spa is to have both indoor and open-air therapy rooms including couples treatments. Guest will also have the use of a tranquil relaxation lounge, Sauna, Steam Room, Jacuzzi, Hydro Pool, Rain Shower and Bucket Shower
