Introduction:

One single word can say it all about Madoogali - idyllic. The natural formation of this island is beyond compare. No fault can be found in the perfection of the island's circular shape, or in the sandy softness of the beach that surrounds it, or in the aquamarine blue lagoon that holds so many rich marine secrets within its depths. Best of all, no building on the island detracts from this beauty - every single building has been designed to complement nature and with protection of the fragile environment in mind. This is an island where you will continue to marvel at the beauty of nature and the gentle hand of mankind. There are fifty individual bungalows on the island and all are attractive and spacious. Attention to detail with little touches here and there adds to the "natural feel", making you feel more tranquil and at ease than ever before. There is a first class dive centre on the island, which organises good dives throughout the day to great dive sites in the vicinity. That the snorkelling around the island is good goes without saying. There are also several excursions, should you be persuaded to leave this precious gem of an island for even a minute. The service here is excellent, and the atmosphere is welcoming. If you want a holiday that is as full of natural beauty as you have ever imagined, and if you want excellent service in a stylish setting, you cannot go wrong with Madoogali. This is a fact proven time and again by the large number of guests who return to the island for more of the same year after year.
